Chicago History Book Discussion Group – Pullman Strike

After the Strike

By Susan Hirsch

Saturday, June 10th, 2017, 10 a.m.

Edgewater Branch, Chicago Public Library

6000 N. Broadway, Chicago 60660

[See remaining annual schedule below]

Chicago experienced major labor struggles at the end of the 1800s, for the 8 hour day, the Haymarket Affair, and the Pullman Strike of 1894. “After the Strike places two important episodes in American labor history, the 1894 Pullman strike and the rise of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, into a new perspective – the century-long development of union organizing and labor-management relations in the Pullman Company.”(1) Copies available at the Edgewater Branch Library reference desk*. Supplemental titles will also be available.

Coffee and Cookies

[Future meetings will be August 12, October 14 and December 9]

*The Edgewater Historical Society and the Chicago Public Library Edgewater Branch sponsor this Chicago History Book Discussion Group, meeting bi-monthly to discuss books on Chicago and local history based on the group’s recommendations. The library has a certain number of copies available for circulation in advance of the discussion; EHS also sometimes donates copies to the library; to get yours, visit the Edgewater Branch’s reference desk; local residents who have the book are urged to join in. Even if you don’t read the book, feel free to join us. The discussion format: those who read from the book list start their comments going around the room; thereafter, those who have not read from the list can then join the discussion. (1) Amazon.com
